ICFRE-RFRI Scientist Advocates for Carbon Markets & Agroforestry at Joint Area Scientific Symposium 2026

Dr. Dhruva J. Das, Scientist F, ICFRE-RFRI, participated in the “Joint Area Scientific Symposium 2026,” organized by the Tocklai Tea Research Institute, Jorhat, on 20–21 February 2026. He delivered an invited lecture titled “Forest Degradation to Carbon Opportunities: Agroforestry and Carbon Markets as Climate Solutions for North-East India” during Session V, themed “Climate Change, Carbon Markets and Agroforestry” organized on 21 February 2026.

In his address, Dr. Das highlighted the critical role of premier research institutions such as ICFRE-RFRI and Tocklai Tea Research Institute (TRI) in advancing agroforestry practices and strengthening carbon market mechanisms to address climate change challenges in North-East India.
